Recently we had an interesting debate and the question of both social activism and spiritual activism arose. Where does social activism, such as the like of Annie Besant’s work, have a place in Lodge work or does it ? And what is the difference between political activism and spiritual activism and where might we place ourselves considering our wonderful objectives we hold as a Theosophical Society. And should we be involved in any form of activism at all ? So food for thought and for discussions into the new year.

Which brings me to 2012 – and wow – how expectant is that ! Our Lodge programme will start up again on the 1st of February.

Beforehand In January we have the National Convention in Hamilton and if any of you intend to go please let us know as there will be a couple of committee members going as well.
