"Fields of Joy" is a body of works that integrate knowledge and information with the transforming experience of how sound effects our physical, energetic, mental, emotional, and consciousness bodies through the human voice.

For over 30 years Charlottemarie has lived and practiced the Universal Principles of ancient sound and vibration and translated this work into music, performances, mythology and film scenarios. Charlottemarie has found, music is a potent platform for opening portals of awareness, transformation and healing through vibration.

Charlottemarie says "Sound has been highly instrumental in my personal evolution from healing to awakening. This work has chosen me and frankly, it seems I've had no choice as the process continues to evoke the deepest source of spirit to meet the challenges of life and rewarding in a way that words cannot touch. After all this time, I remain amazed at the profound simplicity and loving power of sound."

Globally, systems (banking, schools, medical, military) are undergoing huge change. Pre existing paradigms of social structure and information no longer fit the rapid changes in cosmic interplanetary dynamics. This is having an impact on humanity in a new way. The cosmic vibratory glue that binds all of existence from the billions of galaxies to the smallest atom within us is demanding we change. We are forced to rely on our spiritual resources to realize we are bodies of vibratory consciousness. Sound is a tool.
